The DosVak Community Portal is now online. Here, you will find a constant source of information about time tested simple, viable and achievable Technological Solutions. e.g. How to setup a web, mail, dns, ldap, ssh, proxy server at your home in a cost effective way.

You can benefit from the wealth of knowledge amassed/(to be amassed) here or contribute your own solutions. The guiding principle is the solution should be simple for a regular IT ground level worker to understand, viable and has been tested in real life production systems.
